THE NEW TREATIES
A REPLY TO THE OBJECTIONS.
The new treaties between the United States and the Hawaiian Islands, which were signed at Washington, D.C., on December 17, 1921, and which were ratified by the United States Senate on December 21, 1921, have been the subject of much discussion and controversy. The treaties provide for the cession of the Hawaiian Islands to the United States, and for the establishment of a government for the Hawaiian Islands. The treaties have been the subject of much discussion and controversy, and many objections have been raised against them. In this article, we will discuss some of the objections that have been raised against the treaties, and we will attempt to show that these objections are unfounded.
